The primary goal of student mentoring is to help the mentee develop skills, knowledge, and confidence to achieve their academic and personal goals. Mentors typically offer insights, share experiences, and provide constructive feedback to help mentees navigate challenges, make informed decisions, and capitalize on opportunities.

• Key aspects of student mentoring include -

1) Building Relationships: Mentors and mentees establish a rapport built on trust, respect, and open communication.

2) Setting Goals - Mentors help mentees identify short-term and long-term goals and develop strategies to achieve them.

3) Providing Support - Mentors offer encouragement, guidance, and resources to assist mentees in overcoming obstacles and staying motivated.
