Assignment for Internal Evaluation

Name- Muktarjali Indrajit Sawant
Class- B.com 5.4 Div- B

Group- B Roll no- 6376

Subject- Fundamental of Entrepreneurship

Q.1] Functions of an Entrepreneur:-

→ Entrepreneurs play an important role balance economy growth of nation. They perform various types of functions such as risk bearing, leadership, motivator, decision making managerial and financial functions, marketing etc. According to great economist Adam Smith an entrepreneur is the owner of an enterprise and supplier of capital to it. Whereas another economist Marshall opined that organization and management of the productive undertaking is the important function of the entrepreneur.

① Promotional functions of an Entrepreneur:- The first and foremost functions of an entrepreneur are to promote and establish an enterprise by testing the business opportunities in this reference. Though according to H.N. Potlakh testing the business opportunities and to establish industrial unit on the basis of this knowledge are the two functions of the entrepreneur.

② Risk bearing Functions:- It is the second most important function of an entrepreneur. Entrepreneur is a moderate risk taker and works under uncertainty for achieving the goal. Basically risks are quite inherent part of any type of business organization though it is big or small. Entrepreneurs take the risk for the new venture. Without bearing risk the operation of the business cannot be even imagined. taunak tijorhat ibijorhatum - 1990/0

③ Contributing to social development :- The successiveness of any organization is depended upon society. Basically, industrial or business units are established for the purpose of well-being of society. The entrepreneurs should also contribute to society.

④ Functions Relating to management, Organization and Control :-

Along with the promotional functions an entrepreneur has to perform various functions relating to management, organization and control.

⑤ Functions Relating to Finance :- Finance is one of the important factors of production. The success of any undertaking is mostly depends upon sufficient availability of finance. If the capital is insufficient, then the arrangements for various other factors also become bottlenecks.

⑥ Functions Relating to Innovation :- Innovations mean enforcing new methods in the business. It is the major function of an entrepreneur. In this regard, Peter P. Drucker has said, "For business it is not as necessary to grow, as it is to become continuously new."

⑦ Functions Relating to Distribution :- It is the important function of an entrepreneur. In this regard entrepreneur is engaged in the distribution of income from the undertaking to various sources of production. The land, labour, capital and organization are the four factors of production.

⑧ Functions Relating to Marketing :- The primary functions of the entrepreneur are marketing. The most important function of the entrepreneur is the marketing of the product.

⑨ Functions Relating to Research and Development :- The primary functions of the entrepreneur are marketing. The most important function of the entrepreneur is the marketing of the product.

essential function of an entrepreneur is to identify the opportunities and challenges
 0.2] Obstacles to become an entrepreneur:-

→ Becoming an entrepreneur is not an easy task. There are so many obstacles or challenges on their road of new becoming entrepreneurs.

① Picking the right team: The size of market and industry are expanded. In such situation one cannot fulfill all the activities of business solely. Entrepreneurs may require an extra pair of hands.

② Uncertainty/Risk:- Risk is the crucial challenge faced by every organization. It is the biggest obstacle faced by entrepreneurs. They are not sure about stable income and appropriate return on investment.

③ Marketing Strategy:- It is essential to adopt proper marketing strategy which will give the maximum return on investment. It requires to make research and find the appropriate marketing.

④ Finding the right customer:- Due to acute threat of competition creating demand for product, attracting consumers, create and maintaining relationships with customers and making their trust so they remain loyal to the brand is the biggest challenge for an entrepreneur.

⑤ Financing/Securing Capital:- The success of any industrial organization mainly depends upon availability of appropriate capital and when they require one of the main challenges for entrepreneurs is securing financial funds.

⑥ Partner:- One person cannot invest huge funds in the organization and also not compete this large business organization and also not for gathering the required funds, to develop the business and to take the benefit to large scale production, it is essential to make partnership in business.

① Differentiate ourselves:- It is essential to differentiate ourselves from others in the market. But most of the entrepreneurs don't know how to differentiate themselves from others in the market. It is essential to make partnership in business.

② Work and home life balance:- While starting out a new enterprise and entrepreneur is always under stress. He can't afford the luxury of taking a break. He is unable to maintain work and home life balance.

③ Competition:- Unhealthy competition adversely affects the new enterprise. It discourages the newly entered entrepreneurs. In light of such competition and entrepreneurs have to think outside the box.

③ Importance of Entrepreneurship:- Entrepreneurship has an important role to play in the economic development of a country like India. Entrepreneurship contributes in multiple ways.

④ Helps to solve the unemployed problem:- Entrepreneurs do not create jobs on the contrary, they create the jobs for others. They employ needy, competent and willing persons to do something which is challenging.

④ Balanced development: The Government introduces various schemes, projects & programmes for the development of the tribal and rural areas. Under these programmes, government provides variety of incentives.

⑤ Bring Innovations: Entrepreneurs are innovative persons. They cope with changing situations in the business because of their creativity and innovations. The enterprise faces the competitions on many fronts in the market place.

country in terms of people

⑧ Community Development: The entrepreneurs do not forget about their social responsibility. They directly and indirectly contribute to social development / schemes of activities. Some entrepreneurs adopt the nearby villages and develop them.

⑨ Training: Entrepreneurs are keen on training. They provide ample opportunities for developing the hands-on skill and competencies newly graduated students.

Q.4] Concepts of Entrepreneurship

Following approaches are used to explain the concept of entrepreneurship.

① Economic Approach (Concept): Entrepreneurship is the process of initiating a new venture, organising the resources it requires and assuming the risks involved. Adam Smith in his 1776 'Wealth of Nations' regarded entrepreneurship as an individual who is responsible for the formation of an organisation for commercial purposes.

② Social Approach (Concept): Sociologists consider entrepreneurship as a process of role performance. Thomas Schettman concluded in his study - 'The Entrepreneur in Economic Change & Explorations' in 1965 that the entrepreneur represents society's moral personality.

③ Psychological Approach (Concept): The concept developed by McClelland and Hagen - 'The Achieving Society' - 1961.

② Increase in Income:- Entrepreneurs increase production capability and capacity of the enterprise. They reduce waste of man, hours, material, machine, time and information.

④ Balanced development: The Government introduce numerous schemes, projects & programmes for the development of the tribal and rural areas. Under these programmes, government provides variety of incentives.

⑤ Bring Innovations: Entrepreneurs are innovative persons. They cope with changing situations in the business because of their creativity and innovations. The entrepreneurs face the competitions primarily fronts in the market place.

⑧ Increase foreign Revenue:- The entrepreneurs have eye on international market. They export products and services to be used in foreign countries. They bring foreign revenue to the country.

- Definition of Contract :

The basis of every contract is agreement and it should be legally enforceable. Sir William Anson defines contract as "a legally binding agreement made between two or more persons, by which rights are acquired by one or more to acts or forbearances on the part of the other or others."

Section 2 (b) of Indian Contract Act defines a contract as, "an agreement enforceable by law."

Contract essentially consists of two elements:

- (a) Agreement
- (b) its legal enforceability.

Contract = Agreement + its legal enforceability

- Definition of Agreement :

To create simple agreement minimum two parties are required and one of the parties makes the proposal and other accepts that proposal, then it turns into the agreement. So, the agreement is the accepted proposal. Sec 2(e) of the Indian Contract Act defines agreement as "every promise or set of promises forming consideration for each other."

Agreement = offer (proposal) + Acceptance.

- Essential Elements:

Section 10 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 runs as "All agreements are contracts if they are made by the free consent of the parties, competent to contract, for a lawful consideration and with a lawful object and are not expressly declared to be void."

- 1] Free and Genuine Consent:

It is essential to the creation of every contract there must be free and genuine consent of the parties to the agreement. They must agree upon same thing in same sense. It is not caused by coercion, undue influence, fraud, misrepresentation or mistake.

- 2] Competent Parties (Capacity to contract):

According to Section 11 of Indian Contract Act every person is competent to make contract if he—

a) is of the age of majority

b) is of sound mind; and

c) is not disqualified from contracting by any law.

The contract made by the incompetent persons become void.

- 3] Not expressly declared to be void:

An agreement must not expressly declared to be void by any law for the time being in force. Section 2(g) of the Act says that the void agreement means the agreement which is not enforceable by law.

For example - a) Agreement in restraint of trade.

b) Agreement in restraint of Marriage

c) Agreement with or by minors, etc.

4] Lawful Consideration :

There is no consideration, there is no contract. Without consideration contract becomes void.

Consideration means something for something i.e. something in return. It should be lawful. Consideration may be in cash or in kind or promise for promise is also good consideration. Consideration is an act done, or doing, or to be done at the desire of the promisor.

5] Lawful object :

The object must not be illegal, immoral or opposed to public policy. Section 23 states that the object is said to be unlawful if it is forbidden by law, it defeats the provisions of any law, it is fraudulent. It involves injury to the person or property of another and the court regards it as immoral or opposed to public policy.

- Other essential elements:

6] Two parties :

At least two parties are necessary for the contract.

7] Offer and acceptance :

The agreement is the accepted proposal. The terms of the offer should be definite and acceptance for that offer should be absolute and unconditional.

8] Intention to create legal relationship :

When the two parties enter into an agreement, their intention must be to create legal relationship between them.

The case of Balfour v/s Balfour - Herein, before going abroad for the job, a husband promised to pay his wife a household allowance for every month. He sent the amount for some time, but difference afterwards arose which resulted in their separation and the allowance fell into arrears. The wife's action to recover the arrears was dismissed by the court because parties did not intend that they shall be attended by legal consequences on the ground of contractual relations.

9] Consensus ad idem :

The essence of agreement is the meeting of the minds of the parties in full and final agreement. It means the parties must have agreed about the same subject matter in the same sense.

10] Certainty and Possibility of performance:

The terms of the contract should be certain and not vague. The act contemplated in the agreement should be capable of performance. Agreements to do an act impossible of performance cannot be enforced.

11] Legal Formalities:

A Contract may be made either orally or in writing. In certain cases, writing and registration of the document is required by law. Writing is necessary in cases of negotiable instruments, transfer of immovable property and the various documents required at the time of formation of a company.
