7. Brief description: The students of BA II Political Science were informed about the student teacher programme initiated in the class as class activity. The suggestion for this initiative had come from students themselves. Four students expressed interest to perform as teachers for four individual lectures spread over four weeks. Ms. Apurva Swami and Ms. Samiksha Patil respectively studied about and made notes on Aristotle and Plato (Paper No. 6: Indian Political Thought). They taught the topics to the combined class of BA II and BA III. These topics were taught earlier in the class by the teacher.

Similarly, in the BA III class (Paper No. 13: Local Self Government of Maharashtra), students were encouraged and they conducted the seminars on topics from the syllabus (Chapter III and IV) after the syllabus was completed. Students prepared the topics for teaching.

8. Outcomes: 1) The skill of note-making, analysis of matter, oral content delivery were tested.

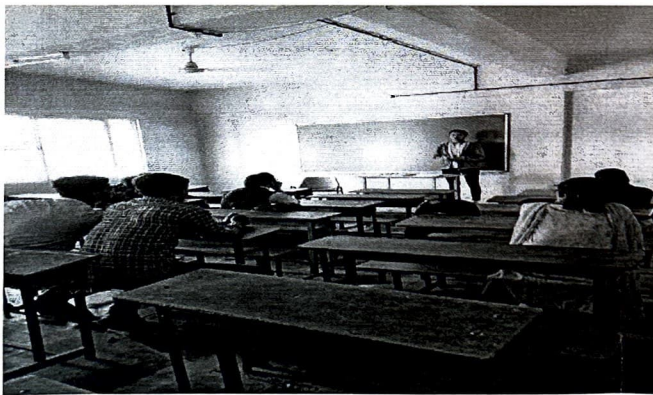

- 2) Stage daring of the learners was tested.
- 3) Peer learning took place.
