B. Sc. I- Study Tour - Ratnagiri

Report

Department of Zoology, Vivekanand College, Kolhapur (An Empowered Autonomous Institute) has organized one day study tour for B. Sc. I students, on 16th December 2024 to visit Ratnagiri Marine fish aquarium and museum, Thiba palace and Bhatye beach.

Study tour provides students an opportunity to learn in an informal environment, during which students observe animals in natural habitat, learn the biodiversity and understand the importance of conservation animals. Department of Zoology organizes study tour every year for better understanding of the fauna in their natural habitat for students. The marine fish aquarium and museum of Ratnagiri was established in 1985 by Biological Research station of Ratnagiri. Bhatye beach is quite known for its calmness and sightseeing view.

All the students were directed to gather at gate of Vivekanand College Kolhapur (An Empowered Autonomous Institute) at 5.30 am. The study tour In-charge was Dr. T. C. Gaupale (Assistant professor, Department of Zoology). Student started their journey at 6.00 am by MSRTC buses. Students first visited Thiba palace where they observed the museum and took lunch there, after that student visited to marine fish aquarium and museum where they observed variety of aquarium fishes such as gold fish, pearl gourami, swordtail fish etc, also observed green turtle, sea anemone, sea cucumber, sea urchin and Skeleton of whale. At 3.30 pm student visited to Regional Coconut Research Station in Bhatye where they got information about different coconut species, apiculture & vermicompost unit. After that student visited to Bhatye beach at 5.00 pm for observation of the marine animal diversity and their natural habitat. On Bhatye beach students observed animals like star fish, jelly fish, hermit crabs, bivalves etc. At 6.30 pm students departed from Bhatye beach to Kolhapur via Amba and return journey begins. Students reached at Vivekanand College gate at 12.30 am. Study tour happily and successfully ends here.
